From the Queen of Hungary's Army in Bavaria, May 11, N. S.

THE Baron de Lutwitz, Colonel in our Service, having entered Bavaria from the Tyrol, immediately inveſted the Caſtle of Aurbourg, and upon the Garriſon's refuſing to ſurrender, they being in Expectation of Succour, he began to batter it the 6th. In the mean while the Succour arrived, conſiſting in 300 Foot, fourſcore Horſe Grenadiers, and 500 Markſmen, and, with the Aſſiſtance of the Garriſon, which ſallied forth to receive them, repulſed the Croats. But theſe laſt having rallied, the Enemy was obliged to retire with a conſiderable Loſs, and was purſued into the Mountains by the Croats, who were provoked, by the Reſiſtance they met with from the neighbouring Boors, to ſet fire to ſeveral Villages. After their Return, the Caſtle was bombarded, and ſurrendered upon Condition that the Garriſon ſhould remain Priſoners of War, though the Officers were allowed to retain their Equipages, and Swords. Their Number amounted to 133. Baron Lutwitz then took Poſſeſſion of the Caſtle, which was very much damaged by the Bombs, and put a Garriſon into it. On the 8th the Enemy, who was poſted near Armſtorf, and Zierenbach, marched for Genghoſen. They have burnt the Bridge near Merchkel, and are retired towards Oetting, but have not as yet formed themſelves into a Body.

Prague, May 25. Prince Charles having had Advice from Tieſpach, that a Body of French Troops, conſiſting of between five and ſix thouſand Men, were at Dingelfing on the Iſer, he detached General Daun, with a Body of Grenadiers, Horſe and Croats, and ſome Haubitz, with Orders to attack them, whilſt he followed with the reſt of the Army. Upon the General's Approach to the Town, he ſummoned the French to ſurrender, which they refuſing, he fired upon the Town with his Haubitz, and ſoon after ſeveral Houſes appeared to be on Fire. Thereupon the Grenadiers and Croats ſcaled the Town, and entered it Sword in Hand. The French were in the utmoſt Confuſion, and retired with great Precipitation; but before they could burn the Bridge on the Iſer, the Auſtrians found means to kill and deſtroy about 700 of them, part by the Sword, and part by puſhing them into the River. In the midſt of this Diſorder, notwithſtanding the Care and Endeavours of General Daun to ſtop the Fury of the Flames, near two thirds of the Town were conſumed. This happened upon the 17th. As ſoon as the Auſtrians had got Poſſeſſion of this Town, Prince Charles detached General Daun to Landau, to attack the French that were there, and who were augmented by part of the Garriſon of Dingelfing, and he himſelf followed at three of the Clock in the Morning of the 18th. On General Daun's Approach he ſummoned the French to ſurrender, which they refuſed; whereupon the General got every thing in Readineſs to attack the Place Sword in Hand, and was fixing the Petards, when on a Sudden the French Garriſon ſet fire to the Town, and retired with the greateſt Precipitation, having alſo burnt the Bridge. When the Auſtrians got into the Town, they found only one Houſe and the Church ſtanding, all the reſt of the Houſes having been conſumed by the Fire; and the Inhabitants were in ſuch Diſtreſs, that Prince Charles diſtributed Neceſſaries to them, for the French had plundered it for two Days ſucceſſively, and had not left the leaſt thing of Value in it. From hence we marched to Ober-Pherring, in order to approach the Danube and attack Deckendorf, in order to keep that River clear, and have a free Communication with Prince Lobcowitz. Upon our Approach we found that the Enemy had began to ſet fire to Deckendorf, as we are aſſured they have alſo done to Natterperg, on the other Side of the Iſer. The Inhumanities of the French, have ſo alienated the Minds of the Bavarians, that, as laſt Year we could ſcarce find a Spy; at preſent they aſſiſt us to the utmoſt of their Power. Part of the Garriſon of Dingelfing is retired to Landſhut, where there were before ſome Bavarians, whom they obliged to go out of the Town. General Nadaſti has marched within Sight of the Gates of Munich, where he took a French Captain Priſoner. By all Accounts the Loſs of the Enemy before Braunau was much greater than we at firſt imagined. General Geiſeruck is left before that Town with a Body of 9000 Men, and General Honenembs is marching with the reſt to join the grand Army. Count Seckendorff, after having abandoned Waſſerbourg, is endeavouring to get together the Remnants of the broken Bavarian Troops about Munich, in order to form a Corps. Prince Charles had before Dingelfing 32000 Men compleat. He has ordered the Pontons from Villſhoffen to Deckendorf. It is uncertain whether the Enemy are retired to Straubing or Ingolſtadt, but this is certain, that we could not diſcover a regular Body together. It is thought they will intrench themſelves under the Cannon of one of theſe Places. We ſhall follow them in a few Days. By this Succeſs we are in Poſſeſſion of all the Country, from the Inn to the Iſer. Our Croats, Maroſhers, Tibiſchers, and other Horſe and Foot arrive daily at the Army. We ſhall throw a Bridge over the Iſer, ſo that if the Enemy ſtop at Straubing, Prince Lobcowitz, by jointly operating with us, may enable us to ſurround them. The French during the Winter have deſtroyed all the Subſiſtance in this unfortunate Country, as Want and Diſtempers have a great Number of the Inhabitants. Letters from Ratiſbon and Augſbourg, mention the Loſs of the Enemy at Braunau, to have been, by their own Confeſſion, above 6000 Men.

[Price Six-pence.]

The News of the taking of Dingelfing and Landau, was brought hither by Capt. Gaſtheim, of Diemar's Regiment, Aid de Camp to Marſhal Khevenhuller, preceded by four Poſtillions. General Tornaco of Prince Lobcowitz's Corps, is advanced towards the Danube, and is not far from Deckendorf.

Prague, June 2. We have Advice that the Enemy has all on a ſudden abandoned Waſſerburg, where our People got a conſiderable Magazine with ſix great Cannons, and all that belongs to them. But what is of more Importance, is, the News we received Yeſterday by a Courier, that her Majeſty's Troops have taken Deckendorf, and in it 350 Priſoners, and made themſelves, by Force, Maſters, not only of the Bridge of the Town over the Danube, but alſo of the floating Bridge, after having repulſed the French, who had already begun to break down the Firſt. By all which we loſt no more than 60 or 80 Men. Prince Lobcowitz, who was juſt come to Prince Charles, was preſent, by Chance, at this Action. Part of the Baggage of the Prince of Conti is fallen into our Hands, and we hear there are about 5000 French behind Deckendorf, who, it is thought, can hardly eſcape.

Maeſtricht, May 29. N. S. This Day the third Diviſion of the Heſſian Troops, in his Britannick Majeſty's Pay, conſiſting of Prince George and Prince Frederick's Regiments of Foot, under the Command of Col. Mansback, paſſed the Maeze at this Place, and will be ſucceeded To-morrow by the fourth Diviſion.

Hoechſt, May 30. N. S. General Honeywood arrived Yeſterday at Konigſtein, with the Regiment of Blue Guards, which will encamp To-morrow. All the Britiſh Cavalry will be up by the 2d or 3d of next Month. Our Artillery arriv'd in the Camp upon Saturday laſt, and all the Britiſh Foot and Dragoons are now actually incamped, except two Battallions left at Neuwied to guard the Bridge there. The Bridge of Boats, which was prepared at Francfort, is now brought down to this Place, in order to be in Readineſs to be laid over the Main, wherever it ſhall be thought proper.

Oſtend, June 2. The Tranſports from Ireland got into this Harbour laſt Night and to Day: The ſeven Companies of Brigadier Howard's Regiment marched out this Morning, and were relieved by Lord Rothes's: The Battallion of Sinclair's marches for Bruges To-morrow.

Hanover, June 2, N. S. Upon the 30th of May the King reviewed, upon the Plain of Linden, the Regiments of the Infantry of Bothmer and of Crug, which will ſet out upon the 6th Inſtant for the Army, with the other ſix Regiments of Infantry which his Majeſty ſends thither. This Corps is to be at the Main by the 27th Inſtant: It will be commanded by General Druchleben. Upon the 2d the King gave an Audience to Count Flemming, Envoy Extraordinary from Poland, who arrived here a few Days ago; as alſo to M. de Mardeſeld, Envoy from the Biſhop of Lubeck. Major Brietenbach, who commands the Squadron of Horſe Grenadiers lately raiſed, has received Orders from the King to go to the Army.

Hague, June 4. N. S. The States of Holland have given Directions for the Payment of that Province's Quota, in the Subſidy of 16000 Florins for laſt Year to the Queen of Hungary. The Courier, Baron Reischach had ſent to Prague, with the States Reſolution of the 17th of May laſt, concerning the March of the Auxiliary Body of Troops, returned laſt Saturday, and brought Orders from the Queen to that Miniſter, to preſs the ſaid March as much poſſible towards the Main. We had an Account to Day, from Hanover, of the Arrival of the Lord Carteret there. The Duke of Richmond ſet out for Utrecht Yeſterday Morning, as did M. Waſner for Hanover to Day. As Baron Cronſtrom is expected here this Night, and the States of Holland, who adjourned themſelves till Friday next, will reſume their Aſſembly that Day, it is thought that the Diſpoſitions for the intended March of the Dutch Auxiliary Troops, will then be adjuſted. We hear that the French are drawing their Army together at Platling, ſituated upon the Confluence of the Iſer with the Danube, and that being apprehenſive of Prince Lobcowitz, they have begun to remove their Magazine from Stadt-am-hoff to Straubing, for greater Security.
